I Still Believe is a 2020 American Christian romantic drama film directed by the Erwin brothers and starring KJ Apa, Britt Robertson, Shania Twain, Melissa Roxburgh, and Gary Sinise. It is based on the life of American contemporary Christian music singer-songwriter Jeremy Camp and his first wife, Melissa Lynn Henning-Camp, who was diagnosed with ovarian cancer shortly before they married. Camp's song "I Still Believe" is the film's namesake.

If able to meet in the fellowship hall, free popcorn will be provided and sodas can be purchased. Bring your comfy camp chair if you would like.

From the Pastor's Desk

Alfred Nobel was born into a family of inventors and engineers, so it was inevitable that he would become an inventor, engineer and chemist. When he died, he held a vast fortune from the wealth of 355 inventions. The most well known being dynamite. When he purchased the Bofor iron and steel mill he needed a way to mine for the raw materials. He wasn't satisfied with the blasting power produced by gunpowder explosions so using his knowledge of chemistry he invented a new type of explosive. To give it a name he reached back into the ancient Greek vocabulary and discovered the word "dunamis" which means power. His invention was called dynamite.

When we think about power, many people, including Christians, think of it as a force that can be used to control, people, or events, or circumstances. This view of power brings with it a sense of independence, with a strong self-sufficiency, and no need of help from anyone.

The Bible, mentions in many places, the power of the Holy Spirit. That dynamite is very different than the power of the world. For example, look at Luke 24:49, Acts 1:8 or 2 Corinthians 12:9. Jesus told His disciples that before they could become His witnesses, they would have to receive the "dunamis" of the Holy Spirit.

That power of the Holy Spirit works in the believer to blast out anything that is unlike God. It is not the power to control or manipulate others, or to become independent of others. The Holy Spirit's power is meant to break us, and to remake us into the image of God's own son, so that we become His children, and brothers, and sisters with each other. We all have the same Father, and the same power from the Holy Spirit.

To have the power of the Holy Spirit, we must admit our own powerlessness, and our total dependence on God. Our lives must be placed under His control and we must submit to His power and will.

The Holy Spirit doesn't make us powerful people, but it makes us powerless people who are God's vessels through which He works in the world. The emptier we become of our power, the fuller we are of His power. When we get ourselves out of His way, he pours Himself into us and through us into others. The power is His we are just the conduits. The Holy Spirit empowers us to be witnesses of God's love, to live in a way that pleases God, to meet fully the demands and pressures of life, and to fight temptation. The power of the Holy Spirit is the only power that is sufficient to win spiritual battles against the minions of Satan. The secret to spiritual power is the exact opposite of striving for success and seeking to promote ourselves. Instead, the secret is humility. God honors those with broken spirits who are utterly dependent on Him. God manifests His power in those who lay their weaknesses at His feet. That is the dynamite of the Holy Spirit.

If lips and life do not agree, the testimony will not amount to much. The testimony of the lips indicates the state of the heart.

Youth, Children & Other Happenings

Update from Brother

Dear Zion Hill family,

Summer has come to an end, and school has started back. We had such an eventful summer with Kids Day Out, Church Camp, and our other church events. Summer fun may be over but that doesn't mean our discipling stops. I ask each of you to be in prayer for every student, parent, teacher, and administrator this year as they go back. Pray for the students as they will struggle with distractions with school work on top of trying to "fit in". Pray they will stay focused on their relationship with Jesus above all. Pray they will keep Jesus as their priority and let everything else fall into place as it is supposed to. Ask these students how you can be praying for them, they need our support more than ever. With the social status of the world being so big right now, they need to know the status of their relationship with Jesus is the biggest thing.

Also, be in prayer for the church as a whole. With recent worldly events our hearts need to be very prayerful for the church. As persecutions may very well be upon the church in Afghanistan. We need to hold faithfully to God and know that His will is true. The Bible is playing out in front of our eyes. We need not trust in the world, or ourselves, but in the God who delivers. The God that makes a way. The God that sent His son to die for us. The world will fall. The kingdom of God will hold forever.

Thank you church for being so supportive this past summer.
